Tendering rules for Dutch method of trading :

The auctioneer announces the starting price of the property and lowers the starting price with a stated step by announcing a new price. The auctioneer calls the number of the Participant who first raised the auction room at the announced price, and with the hammer announces its winner in bidding on this property. Bargaining goes to the minimum bid. If the announcement of the minimum price of the property by the auctioneer, no Member does not wish to purchase the property, then the property is removed from the auction. If at the time of announcement of the price, there are two or more participants who agree with the price offered, the auctioneer begins to raise the price on the value of fixed-pitch until the winner is determined.
